

"Brazilian Butt Lift"

Fat injections to reshape, contour, enhance or increase the buttocks, achieves a more natural result and a perfectly contour buttocks. This technique is also known as "Brazilian Butt Lift"

Breast augmentation with silicone implants was fashionable in the 80's and liposuction of the legs and abdomen in the 90's, now is the time to reshape the buttocks.

Fat injection is a technique also known as "Brazilian Butt Lift" is the most commonly used technique to increase the volume of the buttocks. Fat can be taken from any part of the body (hips, waist or back) and injected into the gluteal areas that need to be treated through two small incisions.

Surgery

Brazilian Butt Lift "is fashionable and patients read about it in their favorite newspapers or magazines, in addition to regularly seen it on television".

The technique

This technique has the advantage for cosmetic surgeons to place the required amount of fat in only certain parts; achieving a more natural result and a perfectly contour buttocks

The technique of Buttocks Fat injection, is done with epidural or local anesthesia with sedation.

Fat injections have no complications as with silicone implants which can present a possible rejection, scar tissue capsule, infection, or asymmetry.

Most patients can return to work in a period of 1 to 2 weeks.

The experience and technical expertise of Dr. Salas performing this procedure in combination with liposuction is achieving excellent results and most importantly patient satisfaction. In Clínica de Cirugía Cosmética Integral you will be able to safely and affordably fulfill your dreams.
